Men To Vote On Five Nominees For Campus Queen Tuesday

Audrienne Wright, Helen Katon, Alice Dunham, Mary Margaret Ritz, Marie Mahar Selected

Ballots were stuffed and crammed into the box in the Pierce Hall corridor last week as co-ed and beau made an effort to assert the beauty of his or her favorite; but the committee in charge of selecting the five nominees debated and argued over the matter and finally selected Audrienne Wright, Alice Dunham, Mary Margaret Ritz, Helen Katon, and Marie Mahar.

The committee will present these five names to the members of the Men's Union next Tuesday at their meeting in McKenny Hall. At that time the men will vote on the one whom they believe worthy of being tagged the most beautiful girl on the campus and reign at the Spring Breeze.

Members of the group who selected the candidates were surprised at the number of beautiful girls

British Consul To Lecture Here Tomorrow Night

International Relations Club To Conclude Lecture Series

Cyril H. Cane, British Consul at Detroit, will speak tomorrow night in the last of the series of lectures by European representatives, which have been sponsored by the International Relations Club on the campus during the past few months. The meeting will be at Starkweather Hall. All are invited.

Mr. Cane first became connected with the consular service in 1908, when he was employed in the Consulate-General at Antwerp. In 1914 he was granted a commission as 2nd lieutenant in the Royal West Kent regiment; in 1916 he was promoted to lieutenant; served in Mesopotamia from 1916 until 1919.

He resigned from the army in 1919 and entered the Consular service a year later and became acting Consul at Addis Ababa. In 1932 he was appointed vice-consul to San Francisco and later promoted to the consulate in that city. At present he is British Consul to Detroit.

Other speakers in the lecture series represented Sweden and Finland. The German speaker who was scheduled to appear in the series was unable to make his appearance. (Continued on Page 4)

Dr. Butler Speaks To Freshmen Women

At an assembly of freshman women on the morning of April 30, Dr. Leslie A. Butler spoke on the topic "Freshmen Looking Forward." He spoke of the importance of cultivating friends during the next three years, and said that the four years spent in college had a great deal to do with shaping the lives of people.

The fact that one out of every four men, women, and children of the United States is connected in some way with school makes education the most important business in the world.

He gave advice on courses for teachers, and concluded with a brief discussion of personality.

Professor J. Stuart Lathers

Professor J. Stuart Lathers Has Been Important Figure In Growth of College

by Mills Wilber

"He profits most who serves the best." Just those few simple words carry a tribute to a man who has dedicated his "three score and ten years" of life to guiding and educating his "children". For his many students and his many more friends, no more need be said. But in order to revive memories of the past—in order to reintroduce the man who has counseled and aided the students of Michigan Normal College for nearly half a century—allow me to recall the life of J. Stuart Lathers, who this June will "graduate" along with some of his students.

Professor Lathers was born in Wayne county, Michigan, and has been all his life, a loyal "Wolverine". He entered Michigan Normal and completed his course in the Spring of 1893. During his senior year, he helped organize the Phi Delta Pi fraternity—known then as the Washingtonian Toastmasters' Club.

Upon graduation from this institution, Mr. Lathers started out upon his voyage in education, which was to lead him finally back to his home port at Michigan Normal. Immediately after graduation, he went to Memphis, Michigan, in which place he taught for two years. Feeling the urge to be back in school once again, Professor Lathers enrolled in the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. There, he completed his work on his Bachelor of Arts degree, specializing in History and English, with an interest in speech work. While a student at the University, he was a member of the debate team and represented the University at an oratorical contest in Pittsburgh. Also, in his senior year, Mr. Lathers headed the Lecture Association of the University as its president, and during his incumbency, the Association turned over fifteen hundred dollars to establish one of the University's first scholarship funds.

In 1899, Professor Lathers returned to his Alma Mater, and took up his duties as assistant in the Michigan Normal English department. He taught rhetoric and speech, and on the side coached the college debating team. Under his guidance, the speech section of the English department became so active and its activities became so interested that the college authorities found it necessary to prune off the speech section and to allow it to ripen by itself and under its own leader—J. Stuart Lathers. So it was that in the fall of 1903, the speech section became a separate department, and Professor Lathers became its first head.

Professor Lathers continued through the years as the leader in speech activities in the college, and coached such men as President John M. Munson in debate and Dr. F. B. McKay in oratory.

In 1912, he with a group of students, organized the Stoic Society—the Normal College's first honorary group—and became its patron, a post he has continued to hold since that time. While working with him, the Stoic Society has established nine scholarships funds for Michigan State Normal College. These scholarships being climaxed by the one named in honor of Mr. Lathers by his friends and students this past winter.

Mr. Lathers' other activities, which have placed him high in the hearts and esteem of his co-educators. (Continued on Page 4)

Men's Union Stag Night Wednesday

Wednesday night is stag night. On May 8, at 7:30 in the ballroom of McKenny Hall the men of Michigan Normal will gather to pay tribute to men who have in some way distinguished themselves and are to receive awards. Tom Harmon, great halfback of the University of Michigan, will be the guest of honor.

The primary purpose of the meeting is to distribute athletic awards, band awards, and Men's Union awards, and is somewhat of an innovation in former ways of offering these honors. Entertainment will be found in some form of student talent. The gathering is under the general direction of Dean Brown.

State Board Honors President In Naming New Dormitory

New Building To Be John M. Munson Residence Hall; Complete Surprise To President

The State Board of Education has named the new dormitory for men the John M. Munson Residence Hall in honor of the President of Michigan State Normal College. The naming of the building came as a complete surprise to Dr. Munson, who knew nothing about it until he saw his name carved in the stone over the doorway of the dormitory.

The John M. Munson Residence Hall is the seventh building to be constructed on the campus since President Munson's arrival here in 1933. Under the direction of the aggressive President, two new dormitories for women, a health unit, the field house and baseball stadium, the Rackham School of Special Education, and the workshop and garage have been added to the College. The amount of building that has been done since his arrival here is almost equal to the size of the College before 1933.

Dr. Munson came to Michigan State Normal College in 1933, following the death of President Charles McKenny. Before that time he had served as president of Northern State Teachers College since 1923.

He is a graduate of this institution, class of 1903. He is also a graduate of Ferris Institute; and attended Chicago University. Last June he was awarded an honorary degree of LL. D. by Ashland College in Ohio.

He entered the teaching profession following graduation; served as superintendent of schools at Harbor Springs; from 1913-1919 he was deputy Superintendent of Public Instruction. From 1919 until 1923 he was director of teacher training at Central State Teachers College at Mt. Pleasant. In 1926 he was president of the Michigan Education Association.

The dormitory that will bear his name will accommodate about 216 men and will be completed in time for the opening of school in September. Construction was started in the first part of February; and the outside construction is almost completed.

Members of the State Board of Education, who had charge of naming the residence hall in honor of Dr. Munson, are Hon. Wynand Wichers, president; Hon. Frank Cody, vice-president; Hon. Eugene B. Elliott, secretary; and Hon. Mary Farnsworth.

Men To Nominate Candidates For Union Offices

Nominations for the four offices of the Men's Union for next year will be the regular procedure at the next meeting of the group Tuesday, May 7. The nominations committee is headed by Lynn Wheeler and Ed Kontrymowicz.

In place of a regular meeting in which presidential nominees may make speeches, the men nominated for that office will make their acceptance speeches right after their nominations. The primaries of the election are scheduled for May 15, and the date for the final election is set for May 22.

Class nominations are to be selected by Tuesday evening on May 2. Officers responsible for the procedure of nominations and elections are asked to make plans and preparations at once.

Senior Class President Attended Twenty-Five Different Schools

Clyde Proctor, senior class president, is making a mistake in selecting teaching as his profession, if the number of schools he has attended is any indication of experience. Judging by the number of schools which the senior class president has attended, the average vocational guidance director would advise him to become a school administrator; for Clyde has attended 24 public schools in Ohio, Maryland, Iowa, and Michigan.

With such a wide acquaintance of varied school systems, Clyde has an unusual background for the study of education. He started his gypsy education early, traveling with his folks whose work required that they jump from place to place. The virtue of such an education lies in the number of friends and acquaintances earned; the drawback is in the problem of adjustment.

Clyde has been self-sufficient since his early boyhood and has worked his way from grade school through college. He started in Michigan Normal by working for

Plan Campus Sing For June 6

Powell, Wiltse Head Committee For Festival

Elton Powell, present director of the Campus Choristers, and Bill Wiltse, next year's director, are heading a committee to plan the All-Campus Sing, musical festival which for the past two years has been held in the Sleepy Hollow amphitheatre. It is planned to hold this year's songfest on Thursday evening, June 6.

The committee for the event has not yet been appointed but the leaders have started plans and will release the list of their aids in the next issue of the News.

Fraternities, sororities, independent organizations, clubs, and any musical groups that wish to may start planning their song and see that practice gets under way before the last minute.

This activity has received such an enthusiastic reception in the past that not only those interested in music, but many other students on the campus have been inquiring about the date of the event.

Hundreds of students and townspeople have gathered in the natural amphitheatre to listen to the soft strains of the singers. There have always been a large number of entries; so with such a backing, it is deemed worthwhile to continue it.

Last year it was held as one of the features of Parents' Day.

Policy governing communications submitted for publication in these columns:

In general such communications should be of a constructive nature and should represent a sincere and well considered opinion. Each must be signed by the writer. Personal controversies are clearly out of place.
The College has a number of Student and Faculty committees and administrative officers ready to attend to appropriate items and suggestions submitted to them. Obviously matters should be submitted to them directly to insure prompt consideration.
Such procedure makes for efficiency
and cooperation.

Many people agree with the radio commentator who condemned such novels of realism and pessimism as those writings of John Steinbeck and other recent reveal-ers of the existence of poverty and distress amid the wealth and luxury of this great nation. They believe that only the good should be observed.

This is a fine attitude. At least it is the more comfortable. However, it is admitted that such distressing conditions do actually exist in the United States—this best of all possible nations in the best of all possible worlds. To exclude such realities from our minds will not remedy them. If we are to continue in this notion of progress,
we should study those conditions
and attempt to remove the causes.

Those poor unfortunates so pitifully depicted in modern realistic writings should bring about their own betterment, they say; and they add that work is the only solution, pointing out a few isolated cases of individuals who have avoided work. That would be fine, if the unfortunates could rise with out aid; but it is hardly to be expected.

The constitution in this democracy guarantees equal rights to all; and there are few who would not give their lives in defense of those great principles. But this constitution is only a mortal deed and thus has no control over equal endowments. The man from the slums may have the same rights as the gentleman from Park Avenue;
but he is so handicapped by the effect of poverty on his health and mind that his rights are shaken
from their equality.

It is not strictly a matter of economic policy that destroys this equality; but it is that matter of endowment that throws the scale

off balance. The matter of intelconsideration. Many of the unfor-

Trackmen To Meet
Strong Miami Team
In Ohio Saturday

A well-balanced and powerful Huron track team will journey to Oxford, Ohio tomorrow to encounter the formidable track forces of Miami University on Saturday.

The Miami teams have always provided plenty of opposition and are the present holders of the Buckeye Conference title.

Fresh from a smashing victory over Toledo University and Bowling Green, the squad appears to be in good enough shape to take Miami into camp.

Tony Rasmovich raised Normal's chances of victory when he tossed the javelin a good 172 feet in last Tuesday's meet. The weakness of the team lies in its lack of weight-men; but the husky New Hampshire lad shows promise of overcoming much of that weakness.

A host of distance runners, middle-distancers, and sprinters will present a pretty difficult combination to any opponent. The sprinters will run down in the ten second class; the half-milers will run 1:56 if necessary; the milers can jog the distance in 4:25; and the two mile race should be a race between Ypsi men.

The Miami runners, however, cannot be disregarded and placed in the same class as Wayne; for they have always provided unusually fast men in many events.

Whitey Hlad is showing that he can gallop over the hurdles outdoors as well as in; and the polevaulter find vaulting outside much safer, with no ceiling in the way.

Relayists Place At Penn Meet

Michigan Normal's six man relay squad took a second and a fourth place in the annual Penn Relays at Philadelphia last Saturday. The runners took a second in the teachers college one mile relay championship of America and fourth in the two mile college relay championship of America.

In spite of the fact that the Hurons did not take their customary first places, they turned in their fastest times in both events and defeated outstanding colleges of the country in doing it.

In the two mile race the quartet of Captain Leroy Grindle, Joe Brzezinski, Tommy Quinn, and Sterling Paris ran fourth but defeated such outstanding competitors as Manhattan, Syracuse, Yale, Cornell, Columbia, and Princeton. There were 18 universities in this race.

Yellin, Metro Merena, Paul Spata, Sam Burdge, George Newlands, Burt Lutz, Richard Barker, and Paul Chernuchin.

At the start of the race Leroy Grindle fell and was badly shaken. The starter called the runners back and they got off to a better start. Throughout the entire race leaders; and it was not until the last lap that Leslie MacMitchell of New York University shot past Tommy Quinn to lead his team to the tape.

In the mile race the Hurons fought a nip and tuck battle with Hampton Institute of Virginia, who repeated their victory of a year ago when they established the record in that class.

The Michigan Normal squad passed up the chance of running in the small college class and attempted to carry off a first in the medal races.

Spurred on by the two long home run clouts of Walt Siera, the Huron baseball team defeated Miami University 8-6 Saturday at Oxford, Ohio.

Siera's home runs knocked in a total of five runs to aid his teammates in whipping the strong Buckeye Conference champions. Art Lessel relieved him and hurled for the remaining seven innings.

Cincinnati Outfit Edges Hurons Out 6-5

Meeting the first upset of the season, Michigan Normal's baseballers met a 6 to 5 defeat by Xavier University at Cincinnati last Monday, April 29.

John Wescott started his first game of the season and pitched for three innings, being relieved by Art Lessel. Xavier coupled timely hits with exceptionally good breaks to tally five runs at the end of the sixth inning. At this point the Hurons began a rally as Bill Lamiman, who had previously driven in the first run, batted in two more runs. Andy Newlands followed by making his second hit of the day, but the Hurons fell one run short of tying their opponents. Chuck Oxley attempted to steal home but the ball was bunted foul by Shada and the team did not reach scoring position again.

Friday the strong Huron nine will head for Toledo where it will play Toledo University. Normal beat Toledo two games and lost one last season.

Dr. Loesell Lectures On Travels

The regular meeting of the Commercial Teacher's Club was held Wednesday evening, April 24, at 7:00 in McKenny Hall. Virginia Harding, president, presided over the meeting. Officers for the year 1940-1941 were elected. They are as follows: President, Harlan Townsend; Eugene Wright, Vice-President; Eila Crumback, Reporter; Secretary, Mary Jane Schlosstein; and Treasurer, George Petredean. The president officially appointed Faith McCrory as reporter to fill the vacancy left by Hildred Lester for the remainder of the year.

After the business session had been adjourned, the members went to the Science building where Dr. Loesell of the Natural Science department showed slides taken on his various trips throughout the United States. Dr. Loesell has visited forty-seven different states and made many interesting comments about these trips. Many of the slides were in color and were greatly enjoyed by all who witnessed them.

Professor Waugh of the Political Science department will introduce the speaker and will receive questions from the audience to be answered by the Consul.

At their meeting Tuesday evening, the International Relations Club discussed the final plans for entertaining the British Consul who will speak for them Friday. The club is seeking a permanent meeting place, and the committee in charge, headed by William Quinn, reported their progress. Plans for a spring picnic are also underway, with Boyd Ketchum as chairman of the affair. After the regular meeting, the seniors, acting as a nominating committee, put up a slate of candidates for officers next year. These candidates will be voted on at the next meeting.

Many are the graying temples who can remember the miserly Shylock in The Merchant of Venice, Tony Lumpkin in She Stoops To Conquer, and Nick Bottom in A Midsummer Night's Dream, as played by Professor Lathers.

And now, as time and circumstance pull hand-in-hand to relieve a true friend of his toil and struggle, it is with heavy and sad hearts that Michigan State Normal College watches J. Stuart Lathers pass from its portals to take up his life as gentleman farmer. But it is in parting that his friends say, not good-bye, but rather "Auf Wiedersehen," and the best of luck and happiness.

Little Theatre Group To Present Two Plays

The Little Theatre Group, under the direction of Christopher Lane, is planning the presentation of two plays in the Roosevelt High School auditorium sometime in the late spring. For these two plays, The Intruder, and The Wonder Hat, the casts have already been selected. Rehearsals begin next week.

This club has recently been reorganized. Its purpose is to combine education and experience with pleasure, and it is hoped that the experience the members gain in the activities of this club will prove useful to them in their teaching.

A study club meets on Thursday at 10 o'clock in the Pierce Hall Dramatic club library. The regular meetings are on Wednesday at 7:30. At these meetings discussions of the latest plays are held, with opportunity for members to express their views.

his board and room but tired of that and went to work in a Lansing factory until he earned enough money to return to school in style. That, he explains, is where he got his car that gives people the wrong impression of his financial status.

His first love is scouting, which he hopes to eventually make his life work. At present he is an Eagle Scout with 52 merit badges to his credit. He has served as scoutmaster; attended the international jamboree at Washington; and worked for several summers in camps. One summer trip took him North into the wilds of Canada in the Hudson Bay region as guide for a group of 30 boys.

This summer will be spent working as a councilor in a camp in Northern Wisconsin. He has already signed his contract to teach next fall at the School for the Blind at Lansing, Michigan.

In addition to the senior class presidency, Clyde has held a number of active offices in campus life. He served as president of the Little Theatre Players; was a member of the History Club, Special Ed Club, Choir, Campus Choristers. His hobby is song leading. It will be recalled that Clyde was the originator of the All-Campus Sing which has enjoyed such unusual popularity here in the past year.

Cotton Ball Enjoys Praise From Dancers

The Cotton Ball, Women's League spring dance, is over for another season. With an orchestra praised highly and said to be one of the best to visit campus this year, the men of Michigan Normal danced with a white carnation in their button holes at an affair paid for by their girl friends.

Leroy Smith and his fourteen colored musicians left everyone wondering why this orchestra had never visited this campus before, and determined to have him return. One of the secrets of his success was found in his sweet toned violins, another in the electric guitar, another in the fact that his music was continuous—no hesitation between dances as is customary with most bands.

Cotton balls decorated the front of the stage, a pickinny and a watermelon, the back of the stage.

Alumni To Return For Varsity Day

About two hundred alumni who have won their varsity letters in Michigan Normal athletic competition during the past forty years have informed the Varsity Day committee that they will return for the festivities a week from Saturday.

The program has been planned to include amusement and entertainment for all. There will be a track meet with Wayne University, a banquet, and a dance, as well as other details in the program which have not yet been announced.

Preparations for the affair have been progressing rapidly under the guidance of alumnus Bill Cooney, who has been contacting alumni in all parts of the state.

Dr. Anspach, president of Central State, and Bill Weber, freshman coach at Michigan, will be the principal speakers at the banquet.

Among the alumni who have returned cards for the day are some who participated in athletics almost forty years ago.

The committee has appointed varsity athletes on the campus to contact all lettermen in order to insure their presence at the banquet and dance. George Newlands, Ted Brietag, Joe Pokrywka, Duane Zemper, and John Cumming are on the student committee. It is hoped that all lettermen on the campus will wear their varsity sweaters and make a hundred per cent turn-out.
